Conclusion of Allied Conference Seen as Beginning of Full-Scale Offensive.

WASHINGTON, May 28—Conclusion of the strategy conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill was announced today as the beginning of the final phase of the global war—a phase in which the United Nations are expected to undertake full scale offensives in both Europe and the Pacific.

The end of the historic meeting was announced by Mr. Roosevelt yesterday. He said simply that "complete agreement" had been reached on future plans. What these plans are will become known only as they unfold in the future.

The very wording of the President's statement, however, suggested that when the conference ended there were questions of vast strategic importance which required answering to the satisfaction of both British and American leaders. The fact that, as Mr. Roosevelt indicated, they have been answered leaves no doubt that decisions of supreme importance have been made.

President's statement said this:

"The conference of the combined staffs in Washington has ended in complete agreement on future operations in all theaters of the war."

That the war against Japan requires the fullest consideration was made clear by Mr. Churchill in his address to congress. Yet it was equally clear that there had been no chance in the grand strategy previously agreed upon to smash Germany first.

In the absence of any hints as to what the conference accomplished in either the military or political fields, informed persons were speculated on the probability of several future developments.

The present strategic bombing of Germany will be followed by an allied invasion of the continent this summer. It will develop at times and places where the axis least expects it, just as the American drive to throw the Japanese out of the Aleutian Islands began with a surprise flanking attack on Attu rather than a frontal assault on Kiska.

The war in Europe is expected to be won by sometime next year, at the latest, but the conflict in the Pacific may run on until 1945 or 1946, according to reliable estimates.

Pacific Force Strengthened

The forces available for use against Japan's Pacific flank have been greatly increased. President Roosevelt revealed at a recent press conference that the bulk of American strength already was in the Pacific. When those forces were sufficiently strong, and the time is right, there probably will be an American thrust, which will directly threaten Japanese vital interests that the Japanese fleet will be compelled to fight.

Destruction of that fleet is generally considered to be the primary objective of the American high command. Occupation of the island bases, now that the Japanese have been secured, is secondary to that purpose. But Japanese strategy has become so desperate within the last six months that they no longer appear willing to fight for a position which they cannot hold.

The presence of Field Marshal Sir Claude Auchinleck, the allied commander in India, and his top staff officers in Washington, according to Roosevelt-Churchill talks, is a considerable weight to speculate that a drive to break the Japanese hold on Burma is a primary objective of the high command.

Parade of Russia in the Pacific of bases from which the main Japanese thrusts will be met until the war is won.

Byrnes Appointed To Direct
New War Mobilization BoardPresident Creates Group To Unify All Efforts Toward Victory on Home Front.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 28—President Roosevelt today named James F. Byrnes head of a compact war mobilization board to direct all the nation's victory efforts behind the battle fronts.

Tersely, the President summed up its duty as to keep "both our military machine and our essential civilian economy running in team and at high speed."

Byrnes in effect thus became what Washington quickly labeled a czar of cars in the war effort.

The board, small in numbers but large in authority, was told to unify activities of federal agencies and departments "engaged in or concerned with production, procurement, distribution or transportation of military or civilian supplies, materials and products."

The executive order setting it up said it was to unify activities of federal agencies and departments "engaged in or concerned with production, procurement, distribution or transportation of military or civilian supplies, materials and products."

The power to resolve inter-agency disputes means Byrnes will be the arbiter in any future controversies such as that between Rubber Director William M. Jeffers and Undersecretary of War Patterson.

There has been recurring talk in congress, and bills have been introduced in congress to achieve the end, that there should be some central, overall agency tying in the various efforts of making war at home. President Roosevelt's action following the general pattern, although not specifically going so far as some have suggested in calling for such things as a war board whose powers would include the drafting of war workers.

Members of Board

Byrnes' board is composed of these officials:

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, Chairman Harry L. Hopkins of the munitions assignment board, Chairman Donald B. Nelson of the war production board, and Judge Fred M. Vinson, who takes over the job Byrnes is leaving, the office of economic stabilization.

Byrnes is a one-time South Carolina senator who left the supreme court to become director of economic stabilization. Apparently his further elevation leaves the President free to give more of his time to the unfolding problems of war strategy.

The new office is to:

Develop unified programs and establish policies for maximum use of America's natural and industrial resources for military and civilian needs; for effective use of national manpower outside the armed forces; for maintenance and stabilization of civilian economy and for adjusting that economy to war time conditions.

Byrnes is giving up his job as economic stabilization director, and that will be taken over by Judge Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky, now a member of the United States circuit court of appeals in the District of Columbia. Vinson served in congress for 14 years.

3RD MAIN JAP POSITION ON
ATTU ATTACKEDEnemy Force Rapidly Being
Broken Into Small Units,
Navy Reports.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 28—United States troops have attacked the third main position which the Japanese had held on Attu Island south of Lake Cones, the Navy reported today, and indications were that the entire enemy force on the island was being rapidly broken up into very small points of resistance.

Navy communique 392, said:

"1. On May 26th:

"(a) United States Army troops gained several important points along the ridge south of Chichagof harbor. Hard hand to hand fighting over rugged terrain continued.

"(b) The United States Army's northern forces have penetrated a part of Fishhook ridge about one and five-eighths miles southwest of Chichagof harbor. Fighting continues in order to clear the Japanese from the high peaks in the vicinity.

"(c) An attack by United States troops to eliminate the enemy from the ridge south of Lake Cones is in progress.

"(d) Army Liberator (consolidated B-24) heavy bombers, Mitchell (North American B-25) medium bombers and Lightning (Lockheed P-38) fighters effectively supported ground operations.

"2. On May 26th Army Mitchell medium bombers and Warhawk (Curtiss P-40) fighters made three attacks on Kiska, bombing the Japanese main camp area and runway. Numerous hits were observed.

"3. In an attack on Kiska (reported in Navy department communique number 391) the Warhawk fighters participating were manned by Royal Canadian air force pilots.

"The Navy issued no reports on Attu fighting later than Wednesday. A spokesman said, however, that every bit of information we have indicates it is continuing."

The flight might be won before the week-end, authorities said, or it might take two or three days longer to clear up the final pockets of enemy resistance.

There were some indications in today's war bulletin that Japanese opposition, in fact, already had been broken down into a number of small groups of men and had pretty well lost its character of organized fighting.

This is a kind of situation in which the Japanese soldier fights most stubbornly, however, and the job of American troops became increasingly one of hand-to-hand combat with bayonet and grenade.

room only partially filled during the eight-day hearing, was about half-filled. On hand were the defendant's immediate family, his father, Albert Bevard of Canton, Ill., his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glane Bevard, also of Canton, and sisters, Mrs. Dora Van Order of Peoria, Ill., and Mrs. Cecil Baum of Springfield, Ill. They were present for all sessions of the trial.

Upon hearing the jury's report Bevard was embraced warmly by each of his relatives. Tears welled into the eyes of each member of his family, and Bevard himself wept profusely.

Shortly before noon yesterday Prosecutor Scanlon completed the first half of his rebuttal action. This part of the trial was wound up soon after the start of the afternoon session.

In his final remarks to the jury Scanlon questioned the jury. "Would you want this murderer to be in an Army camp with your son, brother, or near relative?" He then charged that Bevard had concocted the story that he killed Mrs. Reed in self-defense during the three days he hid in a barn three miles east of Bucyrus.

TARGET AREAS IN ALLIED OFFENSIVE. Circled areas were objectives of allied air raids in the Mediterranean theater, allied communique disclosed. Targets at underlined cities were attacked in raids which struck hard at Sardinia, Pantelleria, Sicily and the toe of Italy. Reports reaching Switzerland said refugees were fleeing northward from southern Italy, and a Rome broadcast said the "city districts proper" at Cagliari and Sardinia had been abandoned.

Twenty-three bombers failed to return from the assault which was carried out "in great strength," indicating that the attack — the 26th on Essen — approaches in fury the raid on Dortmund Sunday night, in which 2,000 tons of bombs were dropped, and the massive assault on Dueseldorf Tuesday night. Essen is 22 miles northeast of Dueseldorf.

Coming only a few hours after President Roosevelt's announcement that the combined British-American staffs in Washington had ended their meetings "in complete agreement on future operations in all theaters of the war," the assault must have given Germans in the Ruhr industrial areas an unpleasant vision of the future.

Other British planes laid mines in enemy waters during the night. Essen became the most heavily bombed city in the world after last night's raid, in which the total weight of bombs dropped on this target to more than 10,000 tons since the start of the war.

Last night's raid was the fifty-sixth on the city and was probably higher than the 2,000-ton raid on Dortmund Sunday night and the Tuesday night attack on Dueseldorf, both described as "of very great strength."

At Jena, the speedy Mosquitos struck chiefly at the Carl Zeiss instrument factory and the Schott glass works. First reports said both were sharply damaged. The works are rated as the most important of their kind in Germany.

Darting out 300 miles from their British bases, two formations of the Mosquitos touched down just before dawn and swooped down through a balloon barrage to 200 feet to make the attack despite intense opposition from ground guns. Three bombers were lost.

British fighters on patrol sweeps over northern France and Belgium soon after dusk last night destroyed two enemy fighters and shot up communications targets. One pilot was credited with attacking two locomotives, bombing canal lock gates, damaging two tugs and a barge and strafing a contingent of German troops.

Britain itself passed the night without a single assault.

The attack on Jena, historic university town 55 miles from Leipzig and site of Napoleon's crushing defeat of the Prussians in 1806, was the second of the war, but the night raid on August 17, 1940, was on a small scale.

Award of the Victoria cross to acting Wing Commander Guy P. Gibson, 25-year-old leader of the raid on the Moehne and Eder dams in Germany's Ruhr valley the night of May 16, made him the R.A.F.'s most decorated man of the war.

Gibson previously had won a double distinguished service order and a double distinguished flying cross for various exploits, including 270,000 pounds of bombs to enemy territory in 14 operations. Including five trips over Berlin. Thirty-eight other officers of the dam-busting raid will receive the distinguished flying cross.

The offensive was continued today as fighters swept across the channel for "offensive" sweeps over German occupied countries and in the Mediterranean theater there was no rest for the harassed defenders of Italy's island invasion outposts—Sardinia, Sicily and Pantelleria.

Allied headquarters in North Africa announced the bombing of the Sicilian cities of Villavalle and Decimomannu yesterday by medium bombers and 13 defending fighters were shot down in dogfights with escorting allied fighters. Fighter bombers returned to the tiny island of Pantelleria to blast the airfield and small axis garrison there.

Speedy B-25 Marauders unloaded more than 4,000 fragmentation bombs over the Decimomannu airfield. Crewmen said the explosion smashed a large number of grounded planes and damaged many more.

Strong enemy fighter groups intercepted the bombers, and a fierce 18-minute running fight

CITY TARGET
OF 56TH BIG
RAF ATTACK23 Bombers Lost; U. S. Planes
Continue To Hammer Italian Islands.

By The Associated Press

Great RAF bombers, pursuing their mission to smash German war centers into impotence, returned to Essen last night and dumped another great load of explosives among the grimy, slither buildings of the Ruhr, for years the source of munitions for German armies.

Twenty-three bombers failed to return from the assault which was carried out "in great strength," indicating that the attack — the 26th on Essen — approaches in fury the raid on Dortmund Sunday night, in which 2,000 tons of bombs were dropped, and the massive assault on Dueseldorf Tuesday night. LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

DOGS AND PEOPLE

Editor of The Star—In reading letters written to The Star I was to add my views on the subject. In the first place a child, we all know, is to be considered. Then our friend, the dog, comes next. I have read of 12 people being bitten by dogs this spring, when more than likely was the dog's fault. Because it couldn't have been any other way. Even though it might have been in fun, it is pinned too hard and was not considered a joke. I wonder just what the percentage is? Do more people die from dog bites, than are saved by dogs? Just how many of the 12 people will enjoy life as well now, as before being bitten. I peddled ice on Allendale and Pacific, two streets in Detroit, Mich. There were a number of police dogs and mongrels. People that owned some of these dogs said they would eat you up if you walked in on them. In fact I went in on every one of these dogs, at one time or another, when they were loose at home. The only time I stayed away from them was when they were on a chain. Because any dog put up will bite quicker at that time, unless trained.

In fact I am not afraid of a dog and don't start to shuffle my feet and wave my arms at them, when I see one, simply ignore them. I have been bitten a few times, but generally look the dog over and note his actions, if he is guarding something, and normal feeling. You are about as safe as you would be if bitten by your child, which sometimes happens. Not every mailman is afraid of a dog or has been bitten by one. In fact many dogs like the mailman, greet him and go along for several blocks on his route.

All dogs are not alike; some are people, good and bad. We must protect society. Should my dog act dangerous, he should be shut up and watched. There is always some one afraid of your dog even though he is harmless. Dangerous dogs should be eliminated, but not for taking their own part, which often happens.

I also think a citizen should have the right or chance to redeem his dog, if gotten by the dog warden.

Let's try to fair.

GEORGE H. CARPENTER.

MRS. BRAUSE RITES

BUCYRUS, May 28—Funeral was held this afternoon for Mrs. John Brause, 21, lifelong resident of the Chalfield community, who died Wednesday at the home of her son, Earl Brause, Chalfield township, where she had been making her home. Burial was in Brokenwood cemetery.

While the bill in congress is united to companies taken over by the government, as for instance the soft coal mines now under the jurisdiction of Solid Fuels Administrator Ickes, the majority of Americans would like to see anti-strike laws apply to all war industries.

That has been shown in many surveys dating back even to the period before Pearl Harbor. The most recent found that 81 per cent of voters believe strikes should be forbidden by law in war industries for the duration, while 15 per cent think labor should continue to have the right to strike, and 6 per cent were undecided.

MAJORITY THINK SWEDEN WILL STAY OUT OF WAR

Despite the German attack on the Swedish submarine "Draken," and other incidents which have increased tension in Sweden, a majority of the Swedish people think their country will remain out of the war to the end.

Bill Against War Plant Strikes Favored in Poll

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 28—The Connally-Smith anti-strike bill now in the House of Representatives closely reflects the sentiments of a great majority of Americans in its attempts to control strikes and regulate labor unions.

One of the main provisions of the bill, the passage of which is being postponed pending the outcome of the soft coal dispute, would make it a crime for any one to foment strikes in companies taken over by the federal government.

The public has for many months held the view that labor's right to strike, however much merit it may have in time of peace, should be suspended in time of war. The arguments of union leaders against prohibiting strikes by law have thus far made little impression upon public opinion.

The public's reaction to the anti-strike provision of the Connally-Smith bill was measured in a coast to coast survey by the Institute on the following issue:

"Would you approve or disapprove of making it a crime for any one to urge workers to strike in companies taken over by the government?"

The vote is:

Approve 78%
Disapprove 14
Undecided 8

As introduced in the house, the Connally-Smith measure also would require labor unions to register with the government and report all money taken in and spent. Public reaction to that plan has also been sounded in an institute survey and will be given in a forthcoming report.

Union Members' Attitude

It is interesting to note even among labor union members included in the institute's sampling of national opinion, there is substantial sentiment in favor of the outlawing of strikes in government-held plants as provided by the Connally-Smith measure.

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 28—The Connally-Smith anti-strike bill now in the House of Representatives closely reflects the sentiments of a great majority of Americans in its attempts to control strikes and regulate labor unions.

One of the main provisions of the bill, the passage of which is being postponed pending the outcome of the soft coal dispute, would make it a crime for any one to foment strikes in companies taken over by the federal government.

The public has for many months held the view that labor's right to strike, however much merit it may have in time of peace, should be suspended in time of war. The arguments of union leaders against prohibiting strikes by law have thus far made little impression upon public opinion.

The public's reaction to the anti-strike provision of the Connally-Smith bill was measured in a coast to coast survey by the Institute on the following issue:

"Would you approve or disapprove of making it a crime for any one to urge workers to strike in companies taken over by the government?"

The vote is:

Approve 78%
Disapprove 14
Undecided 8

As introduced in the house, the Connally-Smith measure also would require labor unions to register with the government and report all money taken in and spent. Public reaction to that plan has also been sounded in an institute survey and will be given in a forthcoming report.

Union Members' Attitude

It is interesting to note even among labor union members included in the institute's sampling of national opinion, there is substantial sentiment in favor of the outlawing of strikes in government-held plants as provided by the Connally-Smith measure.

The vote of union members interviewed in the survey is:

has not been changed by the events of the past six months.

Last October and again recently by the Svenska Institutet (Gallup Poll of Sweden) put the following question to a cross-section of the people in that uneasy neutral nation, dominated by Nazi-occupied lands:

"Do you think Sweden will remain out of the war or will be brought into the war?"

Oct. 1942 Today

Remain out 88% 85%
Will enter war 11 12
Unwilling to guess 21 30

The Svenska Institutet is affiliated with Gallup Poll organizations in the United States, Canada, Australia and Great Britain.

HOUSE PASSES HIGHWAY BILL

Measure Regulating Bids for Road Work Sent to Gov. Bricker.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, May 28.—Republican members of the Ohio
house of representatives today
passed a bill to regulate bids for highway work, and sent it to Gov. Bricker.

The measure is aimed at preventing the awarding of contracts for highway work to a contractor who has not been licensed by the state.

When a Democratic administration was in power, a bill was introduced to regulate bids for highway work, but it was not passed.

Rep. A. Lee Fair of Holmes county, acting Democratic floor leader, recalled the Republican opposition yesterday as the house took up a senate-house conference report on the bill already approved by the senate.

"I dare you to approve it and I hope you will," he declared.

Rep. L. P. McNeely (R-Hockins), accepting the challenge, asserted the taxpayers had nothing to fear from the highway bill because the present state administration had been above reproach
in its highway activities.

The conference report was approved, 75 to 34, and messaged
to the governor for his signature.

Highway Director Hal G. Sours
said the legislation authorized practices in effect in most other states. He said these practices would facilitate letting of contracts.

Members of the legislature prepared today to work through Saturday in an effort to complete their work this week for the adjournment June 8.

There was a question whether they could wind up this week because about ten senate-house conference committees were working with bills unsatisfactory to either the house or the senate.

The senate bill to exempt
"share-the-ride" motorists from responsibility for the safety of passengers was virtually killed in the house judiciary committee yesterday.

The committee refused, by three votes, to recommend it for passage in the house, and then adjourning for the session.

Federal agencies had endorsed the bill on the ground it would encourage cooperative transportation of war workers. Opponents contended it was unwise to remove legal protection from passengers who might be injured in an accident.

Abolition of the $5 a day fees received by county commissioners for inspecting drainage ditches and sewer projects was practically assured when the senate completed enactment of a house bill.

and to charge will be made to donors.

Some Lists Now Available
The nearest thing to this sort of project in Marion heretofore has been the typing of members of the city police and fire departments and the state highway patrol. Also a few Marion industrial firms have had many of their employees typed and the list has been made available to employees and their families. Many times these industrial workers have been called upon to make donations outside of the circle of their own factory. Always requests of this type have been made with gratifying response.

In most cases, however, members of close friends of the immediate family are typed and if a suitable blood type is found the transfusion is made in this manner.

In other cases where time is a prime factor this process is too lengthy. It is to serve instances like these and others that prompted the Lions club to organize a volunteer blood donor list.

AIR RAIDS

ensued. The Marauder gunners shot down seven of the attackers.
Sgt. Carl E. Tuelman of Columbus, O., was credited with one. The P-40 Warhawk escort accounted for six others.

The only American loss in the battle, in which enemy fighters pursued the bombers to within 25
miles of the North African coast, was a Warhawk which fell into the sea. The pilot was rescued.

A Middle East air communique issued in Cairo said allied long range fighters again ranged over the Aegean sea yesterday at the eastern end of the Mediterranean,
destroying at least one Junkers 88.

The Cairo announcement, reporting further on Wednesday's operations, said two small enemy vessels were attacked that day off the coast of Greece, one being left in a sinking condition while the other was definitely sunk.

All Middle East command aircraft returned safely.

PICNIC SATURDAY

There will be a picnic and skating party for the intermediates of

been requested to bring a box lunch and a cup. There will be a ball game and skating at the rink.

SCIOTO PLANT HEAD GOING TO NEW POST

J. M. Miller To Be Factory
Manager at Los Angeles.

J. M. Miller, factory manager for the U. S. Rubber Co. at the Scioto Ordnance Plant, will leave Marion, June 1, to become factory manager of the company's plant at Los Angeles. It was announced today.

He has been manager since last July, having come to Scioto from Providence, R. I. He has been in the rubber industry 22 years, the last 12 in charge of plants making all types of rubber products.

His transfer leaves J. M. Liver-more, recently named production manager, as the company's ranking executive at the plant. Mr.
Livermore came to Scioto more than a year ago as resident engineer to represent U. S. Rubber while the plant construction period was under way. He is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has worked on large construction projects in this country and in South America. He has directed many large construction jobs, and just before coming to Scioto was resident engineer at the Des Moines, Ia., Ordnance Plant.

In the Hotel Harding ball room
last night over 100 employees of the U. S. Rubber Co. at the Scioto Ordnance Plant attended a farewell dinner in honor of Mr. Miller.

M. N. Brady, former service manager at the plant, and now sales manager of the company's eastern division, served as toastmaster. Speakers included Major P. S. Irvine, commanding officer of the ordnance plant, and J. M.
Livermore, production manager.

Mr. Brady, accompanied at the plant by Mrs. Miller, sang several songs. Group singing followed.

Mr. Miller was presented an overnight traveling bag and a brief case by his associates.

1,000 at Physical Show

Harding Students Give Demonstration of All Phases of Physical Training Program.

By EDNA S. DUTTON
An audience of approximately 1,000 persons saw boys and girls of the physical department of Harding High school go through their parts in the school's first physical education demonstration
Thursday night at Harding student union.

Under the direction of Victor Dorris, football coach and physical education director, and Miss Florence Cooper, director of girls' physical education, the more than 400 boys and girls have a good account of themselves in their demonstrations of massed calisthenics, boxing and wrestling, marching, games, dance, stunt, track, tumbling, group balancing and other feats.

One of the thrills of the evening was the obstacle race in which Stewart Young, junior, broke his record of 1:59 for running the quarter track, by making it in one minute and 53 seconds.
To accomplish this he overcame 14 obstacles including hurdle, tunnel, dodge posts, bear trap,
knee action, balance beam, inverted V-climb, maize run, wall climb and ladder.

Band on Program
The Harding High school band,
directed by Homer E. Huffman, director of instrumental music in the schools, played the National Anthem as the flag was raised on the field and the boys and girls paraded to their positions for mass calisthenics. The audience was treated to entertaining boxing and wrestling when Don Spahn
and Paul Milton put on the gloves
for a demonstration of listic art
and Elmer Conkle and Dick Dil-linger staged a wrestling match.

One of the colorful spots of the program was the dancing of the conceal by the fourth period physical education groups.

The girls' group demonstrated skill in relays, group games and stunts and the boys showed an audience how one can keep fit
by practicing the rooster fight,
rabbit walk, crab tug-of-war,
soccer football and scores of other stunts. A group of 11 boys staged a demonstration of tumbling, group balancing and pyramiding with the skill of near professionals and one of the highlights was the triple crab six foot dive done by Lowell Ralston. Miss Cooper's class demonstrated the modern dance in a colorful performance and the program closed with a spectacular presentation of stunts of youth portraying sport and other athletics. The stunts were presented by a group of 11 boys who made up the tumbling squad.

NEW SOURCE OF TAX SOUGHT

Conceded Levy on Sales May Be Adopted as Last Resort.

The Associated Press
MARION, May 25.—An effort to start soon on a sales tax bill to meet additional requests for $16,000, more than the treasury department now, Chairman (D-N.C.) of the house means committee committee a sales tax might be adopted to alternate for war. He always has been an advocate of such a tax and even now said one such measure has been adopted. Proposals of a sales tax have been discussed all along that the case.

There were multiple tax problems. The committee authorized the majority and Chairman (D-N.C.) said he thought the tax was "most of the way to the middlemen" and that it can be "streamlined" by streamlining our production system.

At the same time the war food program embarked on a search for new machinery, announced would be requisitioned and sent to farmers who need it in order to boost production.

The rationing agency, OPA, is watching with interest a dispute between two deputy directors, Lou Maxon and Dr. J. K. Grahith, over their respective authority and Price Administration. The two men would have to be out of a job.

In the senate, a decision approved on the administration's request for continued authority to regulate foreign trade agreements. Secretary of State Hull's assurance that he have the sole authority appeared to be gaining more support in the face of demands by some factions that congress have veto power.

The expected happened in senate circles on the poll tax issue. Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) announced he would try to talk the measure to death if and when it comes up after having passed the bill. Bitterly fought by southern congressmen, would be a prerequisite in seven southern states. It died, by filibuster, in the senate last year.

BOMBERS BLAST 74 AXIS PLANES IN DAY

By The Associated Press
S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, ENGLAND, May 24.—British-based United States bombers established a record for a single day's bag by destroying 74 German planes May 21 during the unscattered raids on aircraft construction yards at Essen and Wilhelmshaven, it was announced yesterday.

The bombers were lost in the last action.

The record bag of enemy craft brought the total to 297 destroyed in eight raids which embraced 16 weeks during May.

The previous high for a single day was 64 shot down during the four-day attack on Kiel, Antwerp, France, and Velsen, Holland, May 14 by medium and heavy bombers. Eleven heavy bombers were lost on those raids.

Within four days remaining in May the bombers, out in greater strength than ever before, already had dropped a greater weight of bombs on Nazi targets in Europe than they had in any entire month since the first United States raid was made from Britain Aug. 17, 1942.

COST OF POST-WAR PLANNING OPPOSED

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Opening an attack against increased appropriations for the national resources planning board, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told senate yesterday he can not see why congress should "finance propaganda which is aimed directly at the principles and convictions of a large majority of both houses."

Taft criticized the post-war planning done by the board, which is headed by Frederic A. Delano, the President's uncle, as involving a philosophy "which appears to be partly socialism and partly the product of dangerous imagination."

While Taft opposed granting even the $200,000 which was voted by the appropriations committee for the board's operations in the next year, Senator McClellan (D-Tenn.) sought to increase this to $350,000. The board's budget would come from the $2,821,000,000 independent offices appropriations measure before the senate.

Taft said he had no objection to private organizations doing post-war planning, adding: "As long as they are private, I have no objection to these plans being made by Communists, Socialists or even Fascists. . . . I cannot understand why a congress which believes in one philosophy of government, approximately the same philosophy which has guided this country for 150 years, should give thousands of dollars to permit the making of plans by an agency which believes in an entirely different philosophy."

The Ohio senator said the board's plans for public works and other government services apparently are based "on the theory of unlimited government spending and the constant increase of the public debt" as well as "unlimited government interference in all business activity and the regulation of that activity, plus a very large amount of government operation of industry."

He said there is "complete absence from all of the board's reports of any answer to the question 'where is the money coming from?'" He charged that these reports made "false promises to the people to assure them of results which cannot possibly be secured and which, at best, can only be a far-distant goal."

Taft asserted the cost of these plans "would be staggering, probably more than the total income of the people of the United States in normal times." The results, he added, would be to increase taxes tremendously or to bring about inflation.

GLORE BEVARD

contained in the confession on which we have based our defense because we believe it to be the truth. We maintain the killing was accidental. The state has failed to prove it was purposeful, intentional or malicious."

Letters Cited
"The defendant could not have undergone the four-hour grilling which brought about this confession and told the truth without getting mixed up," Hilborn continued. He also urged the jury to give careful consideration to letters introduced as testimony earlier in the trial which he said "do not picture Bevard as a killer." The letters referred to in this instance were ones which Mrs. Reed had written to Bevard following his induction into the Army late last year.

"We contend that the state has failed to produce evidence that the killing was intentional. We maintain that the killing occurred while the defendant was defending himself against a criminal attack by Mrs. Reed," he advised the jury. He then read an excerpt from a law book to prove his point that the law provides that one may defend himself from such criminal attack with force.

In conclusion, Hilborn told the jury, "Send him back to the Army where he belongs. Acquitt him. Let him pay his debt to society in the defense of his country."

Bevard surrendered to military authorities at his home station, Camp Millard, on March 25 after evading peace officers for four days and five nights following the killing. Mrs. Reed was slain Sunday, March 21, in an apartment shared by her and Bevard on Bucyrus north side. Her body was not found until the following noon.

According to testimony made during the eight-day trial, Bevard and Mrs. Reed, both parents of children by previous marriages, had been living together as man and wife since the fall of 1941.

Mrs. Reed came to Bucyrus to join Bevard exactly one month before her death.

LIQUOR ALLOWANCE SET FOR 1ST PERIOD

Quart, Fifth or Two Pints Allowed from June 1 to 26.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., May 23.—State Liquor Director Don Fisher announced today that Ohio's initial liquor rationing allowance would be one quart or fifth, or two pints, for a four-week period from June 1 to 26, inclusive.

Fisher said holders of ration books would be limited to a single purchase over the four-week period. He added that a purchaser could not buy a single pint at one time, and later return during the same period to buy a second pint.

Quarts and fifths are to be treated identically under the ration program, Fisher explained, since virtually all distillers are bottling in the fifth size.

The director indicated subsequent ration periods might also be for four-week durations. He said, however, the ration unit might be varied, depending upon the state's liquor inventory.

"During the first period, every item on the state store list will be covered by the ration program," Fisher said. "This includes Scotch, bourbon, blends, rye, Canadian whiskies, rum, brandy and cordials."

Mississippi Crests Today at New Flood Record

By The Associated Press
The mighty Mississippi river crested at an all time record of 42.4 feet at Cape Girardeau, Mo., and began to creep slowly back to its bed today. The highest previous flood mark ever recorded there was 42.18 feet in 1844.

The river's flooded tributaries were receding also and thousands of farmers in the rich valleys hopefully waited to start over on their wartime food production tasks, although army engineers estimated some of the land would not be tillable for another month.

The Cape Girardeau power plant, with sandbags holding out 2 1/2 feet of water, continued to operate.

Puzzle-As-You-Go Tax Plan Makes Previous Problems Kindergarten Stuff

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 23.—The income tax outlook. Puzzle-as-you-go.

Under the so-called pay-as-you-go plan, your tax problems of the past probably will seem, by comparison, like kindergarten stuff.

Here's a preview of what will happen under what looks to be the future law: the compromise plan adopted by congressional conferees for submission to the house and senate.

For the average taxpayer it will mean:

1. More—not less—taxes this year and in the years just ahead.

2. More complicated tax forms to fill out.

3. A check-off of 20 per cent on wages and salaries (above exemptions)—17 per cent to apply against income taxes, 3 per cent for victory tax.

Means Higher Taxes
The plan for cancellation of 75 per cent of 1942 or 1943 taxes, whichever are less, actually means higher taxes for the average taxpayer. In 1943, because he'll be paying on 1941 income, which generally is higher, instead of on 1942 income in 1944 and 1945 (quite aside from any future increases in tax rates) because the uncanceled 25 per cent of 1942 taxes must be paid in two installments in those two years.

The average taxpayer will have to keep these dates in mind.

June 15—When the next quarterly installment will have to be paid on the same basis as last March 15 (both March and June payments are to be credited against 1943 taxes).

July 1—Then the check-off on wages and salaries is to go into effect.

Sept. 15—Anybody whose income isn't subject to the check-off (except farmers), those whose wages and salaries are more than $2,700 if single or $3,500 if married, and those who have or expect to have $100 or more of income in addition to their wages and salaries, all must file estimates of their 1943 income. At the same time they must figure out how much taxes they'll owe over and above what they've already paid and/or will pay through the check-off, and pay half of this amount owed.

Dec. 15—Other half of above due. Also deadline for farmers to file estimates of 1943 income and pay balance due.

March 15, 1944—Every taxpayer must file a final report on 1943 income, pay any balance due (including any on victory tax). Also he must pay half the uncanceled portion of 1942 taxes.

March 15, 1945—Other half of uncanceled 1942 taxes comes due.

REDS REPORT SHARP AIR, LAND BATTLES

By The Associated Press
MOSCOW, May 23.—Sharp land and air battles are raging in the Kuban delta area after a period of comparative quiet, but neither official Russian disclosures nor dispatches from the front today confirmed reports that a Soviet army of 50,000 is attempting an assault on the city of Kerch.

Both the midnight and the noon communiqués were silent on the fighting northeast of Novorossiysk, where the German radio declared at least 10 Russian divisions and a great wedge of tanks was trying to break through a narrow sector under cover of more than 200 planes.

The German broadcast said the Russians scored temporary gains yesterday which were wiped out in German counterattacks. However, the Red army had repelled a big group of enemy infantry trying to improve its positions and said the Red air force and the German plane fleet were fighting great battles in the same area.

The Russians reported they warded off the Nazis, downing 64 German planes in one day and losing only 13 Russian craft.

FULL SHIFTS IN RUBBER PLANTS

Four Major Plants Resume Operations as Five-Day Strike Ends.

By The Associated Press
AKRON, O., May 23.—Full shifts were on duty at Akron's four major rubber companies today after a five-day strike by more than 31,000 CIO unionists and one concern resumed production at a normal pace.

General Tire and Rubber Co. said its operations were up to standard. Spokesmen for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., the B. F. Goodrich Co. and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. declared it would be a few days before they were turning out war goods on regular schedule.

Industrial sources estimated the stoppage caused a loss of $18,000,000 in production before the strikers headed a Presidential ultimatum and began returning to their jobs on the 8 a. m. shift yesterday. The President told the strikers the government would step in if the stoppage were not ended by noon.

Self-sealing gasoline tanks and de-aerated for warplanes, anti-aircraft guns, gas masks, life rafts and combat tires are produced by the concerns.

Unionists at Goodrich did not return to work until the deadline but employees at Goodyear and Firestone started back with the 8 a. m. shift. General resumed production Wednesday night.

Before ending their walkout, members of the United Rubber Workers' local at Goodrich asked the war labor board to reconsider by June 15 a wage decision that prompted the stoppage. The local's president George Haas said other rubber workers would be urged to make a similar demand on the U. W. I.

Jeep Production Resumed in Toledo

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Here Hitler's brain trust appears to be wasting time in futile uncertainty regarding allied intentions—a strained state of mind not reflected any by President Roosevelt's unqualified announcement that the conference of the combined staffs in Washington has ended in complete agreement on future operations in all theaters of the war.

You couldn't blame the poor fellow if he got mad and called the war off on the grounds that the enemy is using unfair tactics. As an illustration of the position, important circles in the Roche capital yesterday produced these divergent ideas:

The allies are getting ready for invasion and Germany must go on the defensive. There won't be a Russian offensive for at least a month. There won't be any Russian offensive this summer. Stalin won't attack the Nazis first because he isn't sure whether the Anglo-American combination is ready to invade western Europe.

The Russian drive is for the purpose of cutting the Nazis entirely from this side gateway to the Caucasus. The Germans have been hanging onto this sector for dear life, in hope of being able to land an army there from the Crimea, which lies just across the narrow strait of Kerch.

Therefore the first move is in the first phase defense. However, if successful it immediately puts the Red army in position to capitalize it in a major offensive against the entire right wing of Hitler's forces which have their main anchor west of Rostov where the mighty Don empties into the sea of Azov.

That much isn't difficult to figure out. But is Stalin going to undertake a major offensive or does he intend to wait until John Bull and Uncle Sam have planked ashore in western Europe?

Well, only the allied high command knows that we hope. If America and Britain are going to be able to invade western Europe in the near future, then it wouldn't be surprising if it had been agreed that Stalin should hold his hand so the concentrated offensive can be made on both the eastern and western fronts.

Two Front Problem
This would put Herr Hitler in a position similar to the one he was in when the Kaiser, in the last year that he hurled troops madly back and forth across Europe to defend two fronts at once. However, the Munich paper-hanger suffers from a disability which didn't afflict his august predecessor. Germany's transport system is pretty well shot to pieces now, and speedy movement of troops and supplies would be a tough problem. It would be particularly difficult because of the terrific air-power which the allies can bring against communications—something the old Kaiser didn't have to worry about greatly.

Mr. Luse said he had always been a union leader and has always fought for the betterment of the working class of people. He shall continue to do so

OPA RULING GIVEN ON SHOE LAYAWAYS

Can't Be Held Beyond Current Ration Stamp Period.

A recent office of price administration order barring shoe dealers from holding layaways beyond the end of a period in which a current war ration shoe stamp is valid effects several hundred Marion county residents a check of the city's retail shoe stores revealed today.

Local shoe dealers were not informed of the OPA action until early this month. Prior to that time, however, a large number of Marion countians had ordered shoes held for them, expecting to pick them up as soon as the second war ration stamp became valid.

Since word of the OPA action was received, customers desiring to have shoes laid away have been requested to turn in the shoe stamp now in use, local dealers reported. By this plan, payment for the shoes may be made anytime and each dealer and the consumer will be conforming with OPA regulations.

Acting in line with the price administration office's orders, one dealer here suggested that persons who have arranged for layaways
place in the dealer's hands present valid coupons in order that the shoes may be held and the dealer may comply with federal regulations.

Action of this nature was necessary, OPA recently stated, because of reports that some individuals were ordering several years' supply of shoes to be held for them until additional shoe ration currency became valid.

Shoe dealers in general are reporting increases in business over the same period last year despite the rationing program. One dealer here reported an increase of nearly 10 per cent over business during the same period in 1942.

Instructions Given

on No. 3 Ration Books

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—The office of price administration said yesterday all persons living in Ohio should return their application for ration book No. 3 to Columbus.

Some persons, it was pointed out, are mailing to such points as Louisville, Ky., and Indianapolis.
The OPA added that persons already mailing applications actually were disregarding instructions. No forms should be returned before June 1, and all should be in by June 10.

The OPA said also that some persons were using sample forms printed in newspapers. These, it was said, can not be accepted. All persons must use forms sent them
in the mails.

René LaBell and John Vansky Score Armory Mat Victories

defeating Joe Ferona, the main-go wrestler, at the Armory arena last night. LaBell, the 168-pound Canadian, continues to work as the rooster of the fight, and these fighters are Marion mat reg-

But before joining in the tricky Toronto stunt, Ferona displayed plenty of sublimity and, at times, faint traces of stellar wrestling. Last night's appearance was the first here in several months for Ferona. Since last appearing here he has made a tour of eastern fight centers, winning over 75 per cent of all of his starts.

After withstanding for 22 minutes everything Ferona could deal out in the way of shabby fighting, LaBell jabbed Ferona viciously in the face and rapidly applied a jack knife hold to clinch the fall.

After a brief rest Ferona came back strong to win the second fall in eight minutes with a step over toe hold.

LaBell rushed from his corner at the outset of the third fall and applied another jack knife hold to win the fall in less than 45 seconds.

2,184 AMERICANS KILLED IN TUNISIAN CAMPAIGN

Stimson Reports 2,437 Wounded, 6,937 Missing.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—American Army casualties in North Africa from Nov. 8 to May 15 totalled 2,184 killed, 2,437 wounded and 6,937 missing or prisoners, Secretary of War Stimson said yesterday.

Total allied casualties in the Tunisian campaign, including British and French figures not reported in detail, were "less than 70,000," Stimson said. By contrast, he said, the axis lost 30,000 killed, 26,400 wounded and 266,600 prisoners.

Previously the U. S. Army had reported 1,180 casualties in the initial landing operations which began Nov. 8, and these were included in the over-all figure reported by the secretary.

Neffner Files Action To Regain Position

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 28.—George M. Neffner filed in the supreme court yesterday a mandamus action seeking restoration to his position as statistician and editor in the secretary of state's office. Discharged Jan. 30 shortly after Edward J. Rummel took over the office.

Neffner, who had served 16 years, contended Hummel lacked authority to remove him since he held the office under civil service and won it by competitive examination.

OHIO LEGION PROTESTS "MISSION TO MOSCOW"

Picture Called Propaganda for Mass Consumption.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, May 28.—The executive committee of the Ohio department, American Legion, asked the Legion's national headquarters yesterday to do "everything in its power to offset the damage to Americanism being done by the use of the motion picture 'Mission to Moscow'."

In a statement issued from the office of J. J. Saslavsky, Ohio department adjutant, the Legion said: "The film 'Mission to Moscow' is not true, even to the text of the book by the same name, but in the words of Prof. John Dewey and Miss Suzanne La Follette is, in reality, totalitarian propaganda for mass consumption."

Kenneth C. Ray, state director of education and chief of the division of censorship, said the film had been released for showing in Ohio.

"This is the first criticism we have heard," he said. "It depicts Russia as a very altruistic government cooperating fully in the war effort."

The Legion's statement added that "the committee stressed that it is desirable in the present emergency that a spirit of cooperation exist between Soviet Russia and the United States of America."

Patrol Plane Commander Lieut. Jess B. Jolly, 27, of Turlock, Calif., and his co-pilot Lieut. (JG) John I. Murphy, 23, of Jamaica, New York, told the story today.
